

THEATRE, B.A.

The Bachelor of Arts in Theatre within the Department of Visual and Performing Arts (<https://www.slu.edu/arts-and-sciences/fine-and-performing-arts/>) at Saint Louis University creates exceptional learning experiences for the upcoming generation of leaders in the field. A theatre major's education takes place in classrooms, studios, workshops and via the production of theatrical works.

In the classrooms, students examine the concepts, theories and ideas that define theatre and performance. In the studios and workshops, students observe, practice and refine techniques for performing, directing and designing theatre.

In productions, students apply their knowledge and technique to the creation of theatrical work. Each semester Theatre and Dance produces a season of theatrical productions. Mentored by our full-time faculty and staff and visiting artists, students execute a comprehensive range of roles on and off-stage.

Seasonal performances are both on-campus in our proscenium and studio theatres and off-campus in professional venues among the numerous theatres in St. Louis. Students benefit from studying in a city with a vibrant arts scene, where they can attend performances at places like the Fabulous Fox Theatre, located in the Grand Arts Center one block from campus; the newly renovated Peabody Opera House; and the Muny, America's oldest and largest outdoor musical theater. Competitive students can pursue internships and professional positions with companies producing everything from star-studded operas to fringe festivals supporting independent artists.

Students who study theatre at SLU immerse themselves in creating theatre. They play lead roles in plays like Macbeth and Godspell. They call the cues for these plays in professional venues. They construct the costumes, program the lights and even design the sets. They direct each other in their own original works. They discover the meaning of theatre and performance for the world and find their roles within that meaning.

Curriculum Overview

Like all Bachelor of Arts degrees at Saint Louis University, theatre majors receive a comprehensive and rigorous liberal arts education. Within their field, theatre majors develop academic proficiency and practical knowledge in all aspects of theatre while also completing the required University Core curriculum (<https://www.slu.edu/core/>). The B.A. in Theatre emphasizes the collaborative process for creating theatre and the importance of shared commitment and responsibility in pursuit of a goal. The core curriculum provides students with the educational foundation for success in professional theatre or to continue their studies at the graduate level. Students also gain a wide breadth of skills transferable to many other fields, such as law, management and journalism.

The theatre major requires 36 credits of specialized classes in which students experience learning, experimenting with and applying the philosophies, techniques and practices of professional theatre artists and scholars.

Fieldwork and Research Opportunities

Theatre and Dance (<https://www.slu.edu/arts-and-sciences/fine-and-performing-arts/theatre/>) stages a yearly season of main stage productions. Every theatre major is involved in some way with each production. Theatre majors and minors form a company of actors, designers and technicians who, with the mentorship and participation of faculty and staff, are responsible for all aspects of each work. Productions take place on-campus, in our 400-seat, proscenium theatre or our 70-seat studio theatre; or off-campus in professional venues in St. Louis' Grand Center Arts District, including at the Kranzberg Arts Center and the Grandel. The Arts District is adjacent to campus.

Benefits of the theatre major also include internship and career opportunities. Students may pursue local auditions for summer theatre jobs and are encouraged to apply for internships with organizations across the country. Students find local employment and internship opportunities with the Repertory Theatre of St. Louis, the St. Louis Black Repertory Company, Opera Theatre St. Louis, the Muny and other professional organizations.

The SLU theatre and dance program regularly creates work in collaboration with Prison Performing Arts (PPA). An internship is often available through this partnership. The partnership affords students an opportunity to create theatre while engaging with a diverse community and promoting social equity. Productions created in collaboration with PPA culminate with a performance inside a Missouri correctional center and ticketed performances for the public in St. Louis.

Careers

Alumni from SLU Theatre work in professional theatre, feature films, television productions, commercials, and any other milieu that employs actors, writers, directors, producers, dramaturgs, designers or theatrical craftspeople. Some become theatre educators. Theatre majors also graduate with transferable skills directly applicable to fields such as law, journalism, sales, marketing, management, health care, entrepreneurship and any other career where creativity, communication and collaboration skills are necessary.

Admission Requirements

Begin Your Application (<http://www.slu.edu/apply.php>)
Saint Louis University also accepts the Common Application.

Freshman

All applications are thoroughly reviewed with the highest degree of individual care and consideration to all credentials that are submitted. Solid academic performance in college preparatory coursework is a primary concern in reviewing a freshman applicant's file.

To be considered for admission to any Saint Louis University undergraduate program, applicants must be graduating from an accredited high school, have an acceptable HiSET exam score or take the General Education Development (GED) test.

Transfer

Applicants must be a graduate of an accredited high school or have an acceptable score on the GED.

Students who have attempted fewer than 24 semester credits (or 30 quarter credits) of college credit must follow the above freshmen admission requirements. Students who have completed 24 or more semester credits (or 30 quarter credits) of college credit must submit transcripts from all previously attended college(s).

In reviewing a transfer applicant's file, the Office of Admission holistically examines the student's academic performance in college-level coursework as an indicator of the student's ability to meet the academic rigors of Saint Louis University. Where applicable, transfer students will be evaluated on any courses outlined in the continuation standards of their preferred major.

International Applicants

All admission policies and requirements for domestic students apply to international students along with the following:

- Demonstrate English Language Proficiency (<https://catalog.slu.edu/academic-policies/office-admission/undergraduate/english-language-proficiency/>)
- Proof of financial support must include:
 - A letter of financial support from the person(s) or sponsoring agency funding the time at Saint Louis University
 - A letter from the sponsor's bank verifying that the funds are available and will be so for the duration of study at the University
- Academic records, in English translation, of students who have undertaken postsecondary studies outside the United States must include the courses taken and/or lectures attended, practical laboratory work, the maximum and minimum grades attainable, the grades earned or the results of all end-of-term examinations, and any honors or degrees received. WES and ECE transcripts are accepted.

Scholarships and Financial Aid

There are two principal ways to help finance a Saint Louis University education:

- Scholarships: Scholarships are awarded based on academic achievement, service, leadership and financial need.
- Financial Aid: Financial aid is provided through grants and loans, some of which require repayment.

Saint Louis University makes every effort to keep our education affordable. In fiscal year 2023, 99% of first-time freshmen and 92% of all students received financial aid (<https://www.slu.edu/financial-aid/>) and students received more than $459 million in aid University-wide.

For priority consideration for merit-based scholarships, apply for admission by December 1 and complete a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) by March 1.

For information on other scholarships and financial aid, visit www.slu.edu/financial-aid (<https://www.slu.edu/financial-aid/>).
