MASTER OF SOCIAL WORK PARTNERSHIPS

Saint Louis University (SLU) is offering the Master of Social Work (MSW) program at partnering institutions. This online, on-campus hybrid model program prepares students in the Jesuit tradition to be advanced practitioners of social work, acting as agents of change to promote individual and societal well-being.

Approximately 60 percent of classes are taught online by SLU faculty. The remainder of the courses are taught on the campus of our partnering institution, including research courses, practicum planning and seminar courses.

Students in the advanced program can earn their degree in 12 months. Foundation students complete the program in two years. Students earn a master's degree from SLU, a nationally and globally recognized leader in social work education. Ranked in the top 20 percent of programs by U.S. News & World Report, SLU, is one of 27 Jesuit colleges and universities in the U.S.
