Overview
The department explores languages, literature, and culture with the goal of appreciating the complexities of the global human experience in the increasingly interconnected world. In this challenging age of globalization, college graduates who can function in more than one language have some of the broadest opportunities for employment and advancement. By teaching students to engage with languages and cultures from Asia, Europe, Latin America, and the Middle East, the faculty encourage leaders of tomorrow to explore innovative and collaborative ways of communicating across cultural boundaries.
